HYMN TO OPEN
BAPTIST RITESRev. Arnold Carl West-

Committee Members
Announced

The 125th anniversary observance of the First Baptist church, beginning Sunday will be formally opened by the singing of a hymn written specially for the occasion. The hymn was written by Miss Junnia Jones and the words were written by the pastor, Arnold Carl Westphal. There will be a trumpet accompaniment, and the hymn will be sung for the first time by the choir.

Words of the Hymn
The words of the hymn follow:
Ancient of Days, Creator, Son of Man,
Time's dim horizon, call us now to span
The heights, Ours fathers
Walked in yore,
Building on earth—What Heaven
Had in store.

And, they proclaimed, the counsels
Of Our Lord,
Firm was their faith in His unerring word,
Their prowess slain, by rugged age
And death,
Passed they the torch, the mantle
Of their breath.

Though we be lights, of lesser name
And fame,
High shall we hold, "The Lamb
For Sinners slain."

Lead on Thy Church, thou Great
Unchanging Head, Unto by triumph, both Living and
The Dead.

SPEAKER URGES
FAITH AND FIGHTElwood Bailey Addresses Large Audience at High School

A challenge to men and women to ride on at the helm of the good ship Constitution was flung out by Elwood T. Bailey, California business man, philosopher, lecturer and student of social and economic conditions, speaking Friday night before an attentive audience in Salem
High school auditorium.

Third in Rotary Series
His talk marked the third of a series of entertainments being sponsored here by the Rotary club for the benefit of crippled children.

The speaker, a native of California, previously had visited in Salem on two different occasions.

In a lecture marked frequently by humorous philosophy, Mr. Bailey pointed out just why conditions are what they are today and what each and every person can and may do to aid in bringing the United States back onto the high seas, a worthy craft.

The speaker's "Cash for the New Deal" subject was four-fold in that each letter in the word "cash" carried a significant meaning, the thought making up the remedy, which he believed is needed to make the New Deal as success; "to make our country what God would have it to be."

The letter C stands for confidence, the speaker pointed out; A for ability; S for strength and H for heart—four things which go to make up "the Cash for the New Deal."

Bailey contended that a genuine confidence, a confidence to believe in oneself and the ability to do something, instead of minimizing one's ability, were great factors in getting back onto the old and right which he was riding was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio express train

SOLONS TAKING WEEKEND RESTLegislature Recesses, Will Resume Revenue
Plans Monday

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—The Ohio legislature, its revenue-raising and bank reform objectives half accomplished, recessed today until Monday.

In five days of almost complete acquiescence with the desires of Governor George White, the house adopted three revenue measures to yield $78,500,000.

The senate in a spurge of activity passed bank reform bills intended to speed organization of closed institutions and to make supervision of others more strict.

With some criticism from sources close to the administration piling up against the house-adopted sales tax because of its allocation provisions and with the senate looking askance at the rates in the personal income tax measure, it was believed the senate may take a little more time in considering those measures for possible revision.

Some observers said the only activity expected next week was in the senate taxation committee where a fine tooth comb would rake the legislation. With the Thanksgiving holiday occurring next week, it was asserted the senate would not be ready to take up the revenue measures before Dec. 3.

The house probably will complete action on banking measures adopted by the senate yesterday after the latter body decided against a marathon session running perhaps through Sunday in an effort to clean up.

The house reverted to the committee of the whole status to bolster an attempt to collect fees and expenses for the session.

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Famous Galapagos is back in the news again, but this time tragedy has swept down upon the tiny cluster of islands 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador. An American fishing vessel radioed this city that it had picked up, while floating in the volcano archipelago, the bodies of a man and woman who are believed to have died from thirst under the pitiless tropical sun.

Almost a century ago, the late Charles Darwin, world famous scientist, explored the Galapagos and wrote his epic "Origin of the Species" classic. Then, except for occasional scientific visitors like Dr.
William Beebe, the islands remained out of the beaten track of mariners.

Waterless, with mangrove swamps skirting the hot, white sandy beaches, little vegetation is able to thrive on the gray lava cliffs and in the shadow of the volcanic peaks.

Legends that the Galapagos were the haunts of pirates who brought back their booty from the Spanish Main for hiding, have persisted down the centuries.

But in recent years the Galapagos, or "Giant Tortoise" islands, have been the scene of a handful of "Robinson Crusoe" experiments, where men and women have lived in South sea fashion, cutting themselves off completely from civilization except for occasional visits by Pacific steamships.

Foremost among the colonists have been Dr. Friedrich Ritter, a former Berlin dentist, and his comrade, Miss Dore Koervin. For 20 years the small but muscular German had dreamed of going off and living in the South seas. He broached the subject to Miss Dore and in 1929 they left Holland aboard a tramp freighter, and were landed upon Floreana, their tiny island kingdom.

HOLIDAY TRADE

Better SentimentOCTOBER'S RISE
IS CONTINUINGCheck Payments up Six Per Cent; Other Factors Good

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—As the nation headed today into its period of holiday trade, the chamber of commerce of the United States produced statistics to show "improving business sentiment."

This and other pronouncements, leading many business men to hope that the Christmas trade might be the best since 1929, were keyed to a note of quiet optimism.

Improvement Continues
The chamber said the improving sentiment, seen in October, continued in November. It cited "a six per cent rise in the volume of check payments, steady retail sales, stable wholesale prices, favorable car loading reports and increasing steel production."

Although the chamber's position is that the government should take no steps to diminish business confidence and create uncertainty, it indicated a belief that "less in the way of reassurance" is required now than at any time in the past several months.

"In responsible modern enterprise," the statement said, "there is such a long interval between origination of additional undertakings and accomplishment, with so large outlays for labor and materials and so small a margin for profit or loss, that a feeling of freedom from the danger of unpredictable outside influences is necessary to released initiative."

To give this feeling in many directions it will now require less in the way of reassurance than at any time since last spring.

General Increases Seen
Like the chamber, the department of commerce finds encouraging business factors. It is preparing for its forthcoming monthly review a statement reporting increased industrial production, employment, payrolls and construction.

MENTAL PREPARATIONS

The chairman of France's army committee, seeking an additional $50,000,000 for military preparedness, demonstrated Europe's present mental state in a speech to the house of deputies Friday. He pointed to ominous signs of military preparation in Germany and described grimly the wholesale devastation which the next war will bring. The $50,000,000 increase probably will be granted. Scaring people to get war money usually works. Great Britain used it successfully a few months ago. Americans have seen it, and they will see it again.

Not only Europe, but the rising power of the east is playing on fear to get fat military budgets. Over the protests of its finance minister, Japan has just voted its army and navy the largest peacetime appropriation in history—close to half of the total budget. Europe, the aggressive young power of the orient and, to an increasing extent, the United States are in one of the stages of excitement which precede war. It is not, fortunately, the last stage, but probably next to the last.

War becomes a glorious thing in the last stage. Politicians and militarists describe it invariably in terms of victory and conquest. Recognizing war as inevitable, they rationalize, trying to make it as acceptable as possible. This can be done because in the next to the last stage they have made what they consider adequate preparations. In this stage, it is effective to speak of war with pessimistic forebodings of disaster, unless adequate defenses and offenses are prepared. The material of Mars and the cannon fodder must be gathered and disciplined.

Fear, however, is not a good fighting mood. So, when war can no longer be avoided, fear is ruled out and replaced with confidence. The mills of propaganda start grinding. Fires of patriotism are lighted. Old hatreds are sharpened and new ones manufactured. The people must be made mad before they will be willing to plunge into the insanity of destruction. The process is regular enough to be described, even to be anticipated, but so far nothing has been able to stop it short of completion.

THE RETIRING GOVERNOR

Acknowledgments are made to The Columbus Dispatch for an interview with Gov. White and his daughter, Mary White, who has been Ohio's charming first lady during her father's term of service.

Gov. White's future is uncertain. He is planning apparently to return to private business, but there is a possibility he may bob up in an appointive position in Washington. Probably, he has held his last elective office.

Asked for advice, he revealed some of the burdens a governor must bear. He admits he found no satisfactory way to handle the unceasing stream of callers willing to consume his time. The most nerve-racking part of the governor's job, he says, is "the constant hammering for jobs."

"And let me tell you," he added "it is a lot of hooey for any official to inform you he is making an appointment without political considerations. With anyone in politics, there is invariably in the back of their minds the question of how the appointment will affect this and that bloc of voters. And there is always the question of whether this man or that woman is for you or against you."

Americans, who demand their officeholders be simple pure idealists and expect them to be party politicians when favors are requested, might be able to find in Gov. White's frank statement a certain amount of refreshing honesty. Invariably, it is easier to understand a retiring politician sympathetically than it is to understand a politician in power. Perhaps, this is because the retiring politician can speak what he believes and not what voters want him to believe.

Gov. White, the man, and his daughter, Mary, have performed the obligations of governor and first lady creditably. Gov. White, the politician, may find he has more friends in a few years than he can claim now. He has served in a difficult period of the state's history. Criticized for not having done better, he may earn praise eventually for not having done worse.

THE STARS SAY

For Sunday, November 25

Sunday's horoscope holds augury of some lively and exciting conditions, albeit there are signs of minor anxieties and discords in employment as well as in private affiliations. In the latter there may be some irregularities of an unconventional or sensational aspect to be guarded against. Writings of a secret or sophisticated nature may flourish, or utopian or visionary ideals engage the pen.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of the unconventional or sensational in their personal contacts, while their versatile talents may take them into fields of the altruistic, radical, or visionary. Safeguard employment.

A child born on this day may be active and energetic with a mind clever and alert, although centered on the unusual, utopian, radical or mystical. Its personal contacts may be unconventional or intriguing.

For Monday, November 26

Monday's astrological forecast holds testimony of important developments in employment as well as in the realm of the social, domestic or affectional relations. And while there is promise of happy and profitable contacts in these connections yet there is a menace through sudden change of a devastating or perilous nature. Travel with extreme care and beware confiding in strangers, even in critical situations. Unhappy news may be heard.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of preferment, honors and advancement in employment, with helpful personal friendships, but they should not cultivate strangers and should make changes and journeys with precaution against accident or other disagreeable adventure. Private matters should otherwise flourish, although there may be some "bad news."

A child born on this day may be ambitious, adventurous, talented and socially gracious and popular, although subject to sudden perilous experiences. It should find high favor with employers and superiors.

Notable nativity: Corinne Griffith, screen actress.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—Billy Bryant, the show boat man, relays a newspaper picture of a pride of the Ohio river—The Queen City, which straddled two epochs and is now an abandoned hulk rotting into driftwood. A sight of the old side-wheeler turns back the years for a jet of remembering—when.

As a boy in Gallipolis I made my first trip to the city on "The Queen." The advertisements hailed her, with deserved alliterative accuracy, as "The belle of the bends." To go up her gang-plank, hear the get-away bells and feel her slow swing into the current was as much excitement as anyone ever had.

At her guard rails we drifted majestically for sweeping lowlands, regimented in rustling files of corn, stippled here and there by such surprising towns as Portsmouth, Huntington, Ashland, Maysville. One dusk we nosed into a mudbank to take on a cow that bolted and swam the Ohio. Thrills, thrills!

And the red-headed cursing mate. What a tyrant among the shambling, shiftless roustabouts! The three-piece stringed orchestra strumming in the moonlight. The lonely sentinel in the pilot house. Lamp-lit farm houses in the clearing. And at last the anti-climax—suspension bridge and Cincinnati!

The calamities so often engulfing the innocent! Bob Garland accidentally drove by a stop light. A sharp whistle and a pull up to the curb. A not so friendly cop sticking his head into the car window for explanation. And Garland's gentle bull dog, sensing attack, biting him through the cheek. Tableaux!

Sam Byrd plays convincingly the ball-bouncing half wit in that ornery opus "Tobacco Road." At eight performances a week he stands revealed greedily munching an indigestible tid bit of the barren lands—a raw turnip. There is no hocuspocus. It's a real turnip he chews and swallows. A devotion perhaps to stage realism rarely equaled in the theatre.

Every man has his favorite tie. One he saves for grandiose events. Mine is a deep purple—a cravat from Charvet in Place Vendome that has royal splendor. Often I'm tempted but I finger it admiringly and fold back into careful tissue. And make another more prosaic selection. This has been going on several years. Someday I'll probably crack under the strain, yank it out and "go to town."

An adorably flattering miss who advises with me on her affairs du coeur revealed this impassioned finale to a letter from her 18-year-old swain, now in a boarding school near Lucerne. "It isn't fair to sugar to be as sweet as you" he deliquessed in a round Spencerian hand. Sure and there's the makings of a fine lover in that broth of a boy.

And speaking of Romeos, Lou Tellegen frantically plunging scissors into the romantic breast, upon which so many maidenly heads sighed to lie, is a horror hard to erase. Of many matinee idols he seemed most desirable. But like many great lovers he was fine-spun fabric without the texture known as stability. Every cavalier eventually, it seems, has his head turned by the same phosphorescent sparkle he thinks is charm. A hoisting by his own petard! The elfins in the bee-droned gardens turn out to be the common garden variety of saps—even as you and I. Tellegen, one of the finest and handsomest leading men of his time, showed the beginning of his egoistic decay in that sickening book, "Women Have Been Kind," in which he revealed the secrets of the boudoir in shameless bravado.

Gold Guarded Underground

While the world watches the growing outflow of gold from France, employees in the great subterranean vault of the Bank of France keep careful guard over the billions of yellow francs that line the long vaults. Eighty-five feet below Parisian streets lies the world's greatest treasure trove, surrounded by concrete walls and underground lakes, to make it the most impenetrable stronghold ever known. Ready for any emergency, the great cavern, hewn out of solid rock, houses food supplies, sleeping quarters, and other accommodations to permit 2,000 persons to hold out against a siege for more than three months.

Facts About "French Mouth"

NEGLECT OF the gums and teeth creates a serious menace to health and long life. Yet few persons realize the danger and even they may fail to take the necessary steps to prevent serious damage to the health. I venture to say that many permanent physical defects can be traced to carelessness in the hygiene of the mouth, teeth and gums.

"Vincent's angina" is an infection of the tissues of the throat and mouth. The disease was first described in 1894 by a French physician named Vincent, from whom it derives its name. But it is better known as "trench mouth." This term came into use during the World war, when the affliction was commonly encountered among the soldiers in the trenches.

Though Vincent's angina is caused by a specific germ, the affliction rarely occurs among individuals who have good health and are careful about their teeth and gums. But occasionally the infection can be traced to a general run-down condition and poor resistance to all germs, including those of this disease.

Most sufferers from Vincent's angina overlook the early signs of the disorder. This is unfortunate because early recognition of the disease and prompt treatment lead to speedy recovery.

Youthful Thieves Employ New Ruse

COLUMBUS, O. — A new ruse used by youthful thieves caused a wrinkle across police brows.

Mrs. H. E. Adams reported that she had been robbed of a small amount of money when she stopped her car on an isolated viaduct here to see whether she had a flat tire. It turned out that two youths had been riding on the rear bumper and had jumped up and down to jolt the car. When Mrs. Adams alighted, they grabbed her purse from the front seat and ran.

Liberty Leaguers on Coast

Three leading lights of the American Liberty League, whose purpose is to maintain, defend and perpetuate the constitution of the United States, are snapped in San Francisco as they prepared to found a branch of the league in northern California. They are John J. Raskob, former Democratic national chairman, left, and E. F. Hutton, right, with Irene du Pont, of the Delaware du Ponts, seated. One of the league's aims, its leaders say, is to combat "radicalism" on the west coast.

Good Pumpkin Pie Is a Handy Thing; Try This Recipe

A pumpkin pie is a mighty handy thing to have around during the holidays, even if you aren't a movie comedian. People do other things with pumpkin pies besides plastering them all over other people's faces, you know. So here's a good way to make a simple.

Country Pumpkin Pie. Smooth one-half cup cottage cheese, or pass it through a sieve, then mix with one and a third cups canned pumpkin. Mix two-thirds cup sugar with two-thirds teaspoon salt, two-thirds teaspoon ginger, two-thirds teaspoon cinnamon and one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, and add with two beaten eggs and one and a third cups milk. Heat in a double boiler and pour into a pie tin lined with pastry. Bake, having oven hot, 450 degrees, for first ten minutes, then remaining time about thirty minutes or until a knife inserted comes out clean. This makes one pie.

Or Else
If you're feeling drowsy, you can do up a pumpkin pie so that its country cousin wouldn't recognize it on the table. If you feel that way about it, try this.

Pumpkin Pie With Marshmallows: Add two-thirds cup sugar, one-fourth cup dark molasses, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon ginger to two cups canned pumpkin (or half the contents of a No. 3 can). Add two beaten eggs, one cup milk and one-half cup cream, and heat in double boiler. Pour into tin lined with pastry and bake at 450 degrees for ten minutes, then at 325 degrees for thirty minutes or till set. Cut twelve marshmallows in halves and lay over top. Return to oven until marshmallows are browned. Makes one large pie.

HOLY TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN

East State st. at Woodland ave. Rev. George D. Keister, pastor. Twenty-sixth Sunday after Trinity. Sunday school 9:45 (Matthew 25:14-30). Paul Wilms, Supt.

The stay of man upon earth is temporary. It is only for a brief period, comparatively speaking. The grip of man upon earthly possessions is only for a brief space of time. Possession may only be for this life. It often is not that long. So our powers and talents are the gifts of a higher power. They do not arise from within ourselves. They are bestowed upon us. We are entrusted with these talents and responsibilities and are to use and improve them. The teachings of Christian Stewardship are not universally taught and believed. Life is not to be a selfish journey. We are to be used and to be of value to God and our fellowmen.

Morning worship 11:00. Sermon: "Sharing."

The grasping and retaining spirit of man is one that comes naturally and demands to stay. It is only when the better and higher self within us gets the supremacy that true sharing is possible. Jesus was the perfect sharer. He opened His treasure chest and gave to the whole world blessings until in value. He shared His life and gave it for the redemption of the world. It is only when man learns to share that real and vital living is possible. He or she who will not share with man and God, may be deprived of the sharing of the abundant life in eternity. True happiness comes only from sharing. No one from either the low or high places in life is deprived of it.

Wednesday evening services at 8. Sunday school for pupils up to the age of 20 years at 9:30 a. m. "Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is: "The word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Heb. 4:12).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people" (Matt. 9:35).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All sin is of the flesh. It cannot be spiritual. Sin exists here or hereafter only so long as the illusion of mind in matter remains. It is a sense of sin, and not a sinful soul, which is lost."

EMMANUEL AMERICAN LUTHERAN

291 South Broadway. Rev. John Bauman, pastor. Frank Hoprich, Sunday school superintendent.

Thanksgiving day service. One of the specific requests in the Thanksgiving day proclamations of our presidents and governors has been that the people in the United States should assemble for religious services to bring before the throne of God their prayers of thanksgiving. For the people of our fair city, a community Thanksgiving service has been arranged. This service will be held Thursday, Thanksgiving day, morning in the Salem High school at 9:30 a. m. Let all the people of Salem assemble on Thursday morning, Nov. 29, for prayer, consecration and praise, and prove to God and men that Christian people are truly thankful.

Since its inception this national holiday has had a religious significance and we who are identified with endeavors of that nature ought not to neglect its appeal. Turkey and football may have their place as a part of the jollification of this holiday, but the service of Thanksgiving must not be crowded out of its rightful place. Even though many hopes and plans have remained unfulfilled this year and many must suffer privations, let us be thankful that divine love enables us to serve and sacrifice for each other.

Services in our church Sunday: Sunday school at 9 a. m. The pastor's Bible class meets at 9:15 a. m. Divine service in English at 10 a. m. Sermon topic: "Relief From Soul Affliction." Divine service in German at 11 a. m. At this service the pastor will preach on "Remembrance Day."

FARM BUREAU TAKES STAND

Opposes Any Move Which Might Decrease Rural Legislation

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 24.—Ohio's farm representative was staunchly on record today against any move which might decrease rural strength in the legislature.
The Ohio Farm bureau adopted a resolution opposing any constitutional amendment which would deprive a county of at least one representative in the Ohio house, underlying that sentiment against any move for a unicameral or one-house legislature.

Bureau Elects Officers
Officers of the bureau were re-elected at a banquet which closed the convention last night. They are Perry L. Green of Hiram, president; A. P. Moon of Conover, vice president; Murray D. Lincoln of Columbus, secretary; R. E. Ascham of Findlay, treasurer; and L. A. Taylor and J. E. Keltner of Columbus, respectively assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.
Other resolutions adopted by the bureau urged exemption of milk from the sales tax, payment of old age pensions from a tax on liquor, expansion of the highway patrol, an increased utility excise tax, and a state fund for schools.

SPEAKER URGES FAITH AND FIGHT

Elwood Bailey Addresses Large Audience at High School

paths, plus, of course, strength to carry forward the fighting spirit. Also the heart, a heart which goes hand in hand with strength in understanding the necessity and reason for piloting the nation's ship out of the storm into calm and peaceful seas.
Mr. Bailey, in opening his talk, drew a parallel picture between the present generation and the early pioneers who invaded the land, struck numerous obstacles, fought, suffered and eventually after much strife, succeeded.

Test Our Senses
The average man, the lecturer contended, seems content to sit and think, trying to see what he has lost and must regain. "A genuine confidence is needed," Bailey said. "We need a sense of security, a sense of cultural things, a sense of honesty and fidelity. The trouble is that we've lost our senses."

In a philosophical slant, the speaker said, "you never lose your dollars until you've lost your sense, and, you never know what you've lost until you know you've lost it."
Mr. Bailey said that too many citizens after the recent war took on an air of self-headedness, with all the foreign nations owing us money, and believed the country floating high and sound, and went off on a mad merry-go-round trip, later awakening from the dizzy whirl to find the ship off the course and drifting dangerously, with no support. "President Wilson warned us," he said, "Coolidge warned us and Hoover warned us, but the people took no heed until the ship struck an obstacle."

"Now the good ship is being remedied, not repaired, down in Washington. The confidence of the people is needed."
Preceding Mr. Bailey's lecture an enjoyable musical program was presented by Jack Bernhart's orchestra, directed by John B. Gunesch.

Joan Blondell's a Fond Mother

Smiling happily, Joan Blondell, blonde movie star, poses with her first-born child in a Los Angeles hospital. Norman Scott Barnes is the name of the lusty young newcomer yawning at his mother, who in private life is Mrs. George Barnes, wife of a Hollywood cameraman.

Crawford-Gable Team In "Chained At State Three Days; Other Features

Good Cast
With the stars are Otto Kruger, Stuart Erwin, Una O'Connor and Marjorie Gateson—a splendid cast. Miss Crawford is cast as a vivid young lady of Manhattan and Gable as an American rancher in Buenos Aires. With Kruger the third member of the triangle as a rich, gentlemanly middle-aged New Yorker, also in love with Joan, the story takes on its dramatic aspect. Following the trend of fast-moving locale, the background against which the action takes place is as swift-changing as the drama itself. Beginning with a sun-drenched motorboat sequence on New York bay, the locale swiftly shifts to Manhattan, then to a luxurious liner at sea, then to Buenos Aires, South America, out onto a great ranch back to New York, and finally to a smart mountain resort in the north.

Happy Climax
The story itself concerns a lovely girl who deliberately breaks one man's heart to save another man to whom she is indebted from suffering, even though she is in love with the former. It is not until she meets the younger man that she realizes the mistake she is making by marrying the other and plunging herself into a life which offers the maximum of security and riches and the minimum of love on her part. But she has promised the older man who will marry him and she has a deep affection for him. The threads by which the complicated triangle is untangled create a tale permeated with emotional pungency and powerful dramatic situations. It is not a sad film and the ending is a happy and logical one.

The Case of the Howling Dog, with Warren William in the leading role, is the State's mystery attraction for Wednesday only. Mary Astor, Helen Trenholme and Allen Jenkins are in the supporting cast.

Thanksgiving Film
On Thanksgiving day comes Dick Powell's newest film, "Happiness Ahead," considered by far his best picture in which he has his first straight acting role rather than a part that requires just singing. With him is a very promising newcomer, Josephine Hutchinson, and others include Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly and Dorothy Dars. In addition to the feature an "Our Gang" comedy and a "Mickey Mouse" cartoon are billed.
The week concludes with "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round," featuring an all-star cast headed by Jack Benny of radio fame, Nancy Carroll, Gene Raymond, the Boswell sisters,
